Putting Staff on Layoff

As a result of the recent business closures, many employees have been laid-off.

ThesaurusSoftware brightpay

Layoff or Redundancy?

Layoff - a temporary measure - the individual is still an employee but not receiving any remuneration

Normally the employee will return to their previous role on the same terms and conditions

An employee's length of service is not impacted by the layoff

ThesaurusSoftware brightpay

Layoff or Redundancy?

Redundancy - when the employee loses their job permanently due to a business closure / reduction in work

Typically, an employee may claim statutory redundancy where a layoff situation lasts for:

- 4 weeks or more
- 6 weeks in the last 13 weeks

ThesaurusSoftware brightpay

COVID-19 & Redundancy

Legislation on claiming redundancy has been changed during COVID-19

Employees who have been laid off during the emergency period are not able to claim redundancy

Emergency Period:
13 March 2020 to 31 May 2020

ThesaurusSoftware brightpay

Putting staff on layoff

Employers should give employees notice in writing that they will be put on layoff

Best practice is for employees to have a layoff clause in their contract

Consider a temporary layoff clause or letter getting confirmation from the employee to the layoff

Layoffs & Annual Leave

Employees on layoff will accrue public holidays but not annual leave

Accrued annual leave remains intact during layoff– employers should not pay employees in lieu

Try to be flexible in terms of allowing an employee to carry over leave

ThesaurusSoftware brightpay

COVID-19 & Short Time Work

Working hours reduced to 3 days or less – Short time Work Support

Payment is made in respect of your regular salary for the days you are no longer working

Employers working short-time continue to accrue annual leave
